CHAMBER MET TUESDAY

A regular meeting of the Greater Bethel Chamber of Commerce was held Tuesday morning at the Town Office. To date no brochures for the Mollyockett Day information booth have been dropped off at The Shop. Members are urged to leave pamphlets, posters and brochures with Rick Whitney at The Shop or with any director this week. There has been excellent response from the membership mailing and Secretary Wende Gray will produce an up-to-date map of the community with all members listed. The map will be distributed at Mollyockett Day and throughout the remainder of the summer. It was decided that an updated Chamber brochure should be available for distribution by January 1985. Director Robin Zinchuk reviewed the work she had done with newspapers, radio and television to publicize Mollyockett Day. The directors are planning a membership picnic sponsored by the Chamber in late summer, possibly at Littlefield Beaches. Town Manager Bill Judson spoke to the directors about community development block grants and explained the process of applying for the grant and funding of projects. Immediately following the meeting, an engraved plaque was presented to the Brown Family at the Citizen Office. The Browns were recipients of the Chamber's Henry Hastings Citizen-

The S.A.D. 44 Board of Directors met in the Library at Telstar Regional High School on Monday evening.

Approval was granted to enable S.A.D. 44 Superintendent of Schools Dewaine B. Craig to act as State Agent (Superintendent) for the Towns of Gilead and Upton during the 1984-85 school year.

The Directors approved the appointment of Burnham Rice as S.A.D. 44 Buildings and Grounds Supervisor for the 1985 fiscal year. The resignation of Gerald Durgin was accepted. In past years a teacher in the Telstar Middle School, Mr. Durgin would have had instructional responsibilities at Telstar Regional High School for the 1984-85 school year. During

ON-SITE NUCLEAR WASTE DISPOSAL TO BE FURTHER INVESTIGATED

The Maine Low Level Radioactive Waste Siting Commission, in its latest meeting of July 12, took further significant steps toward investigating the possibility of keeping low-level radioactive waste from Maine stored on-site at the nuclear power station in Wiscasset. Members of the commission voted unanimously to approve $11,000.00 from their annual budget to undertake a geological investigation of the Wiscasset area to determine its suitability for such a site. A resolution also passed unanimously noting the public safety advantages of storage near the power plant because of the elimination of transportation risks.

Several Bethel area residents attended the hearing, including State

Cable TV Franchise Signed

Summer is a time for work as well as play. Readers will recall that several ambitious projects were undertaken by the Town crew and various municipal boards and committees. Here is an update on several of them beginning with Cable TV.

When the Board of Selectmen voted unanimously Tuesday evening, July 17, to ratify a 15 year cable TV franchise agreement with Denis Nolin of Bethel Cablevision Co. Inc., two years of hard work by the Planning Board and staff assistant Paula Wight were realized. Following selection of an antenna sight and plan approval by the FCC, cable placement may begin as early as late summer to provide coverage to the Bethel and West Bethel villages, connected along Route 2 with "spur" lines along the more populated sections of Mayville, Route 26 past Telstar, Intervale Road (about one

THIS WEEK AT THE MOSES MASON HOUSE

Work on reprinting "East Bethel Road" continues with a questionnaire being sent out to all those known to be included so that changes in birth, marriages and deaths can be recorded in the new edition. A flyer making it easy to order a copy or copies of the book will also be sent out in the near future. The 1984 edition is expected to be available by December with a limited number of copies available and a pre-publication price incentive.

A century ago the "Oxford County Advertiser" for July 18, 1884, was reporting that Bethel's corner, E. B. Goddard "was called Thursday last week to view the body of Lewis Disco a Canadian, killed by a falling tree while at work for A. S. Bean in Albany." The report added: "Mr. Goddard carried the coffin for over half a mile into the woods to receive the remains."

felt some permanent form of identification was needed on the property. The work done in the Museum by all involved is greatly appreciated. Many items were also donated to the Museum including a book on the Military in Bryant Pond, a child's toy, an antique blouse, two chairs, a fan, and a dinner bell. Collections are growing appreciably every week. Over 50 visitors have come to the Museum thus far this summer, and it is anticipated July and August will be the busiest months. So plan to visit and make this summer, our fifth, the most successful yet.

Sent in by Viva Whimman:

Has everyone melted away? I sure feel as though I had today. The humidity is so bad it sure isn't good for one's breathing or keeping cool. I came home with my daughter last night and it is sure hot here in the city of Lewiston and I imagine just as hot elsewhere.

Russell has been busy moving from one side of the steps to the other to make lawn boiler up by the trailer. It is quite a job and makes one sweat and get thirsty. Did some cooking off and on this week to have enough food for Booster Night at Grange on Saturday night, so have kept out of mischief. Of course had to go to the doctor as usual and as we were early, took a ride around the country side and saw a farm where they have some horses, and pretty ones too. We admired them for a little, then drove up over the hill to see a place where Russell used to milk years ago. It is interesting to see all the changes that take place over the years.

Russell has worked in his garden when he could without the heat getting to him and it looks much better than it did. Hope that things come ahead so we get something for all our troubles. Did have some Swiss Chard and it tasted real good. Peas are blossoming and hope to have a good crop of them if all goes well.

Went to town one day to do a little shopping and of course we had to do the washing. That is always there waiting to be done. We have kept pretty busy even with the heat and humidity, but sure wish it would cool enough for one to sleep more comfortably.

Got to tell you about Saturday night. I had advertised and advertised that Outward Bound would put on most of the program and had hoped to have a good crowd to see them and learn the purpose of the school and what the young people learned by being in the group. I must tell you that you don't know what you missed by not coming to see the group perform and tell of their experiences; some with moose and others with bears and it is really quite a thing that they do out in the woods of Maine. There are other groups in the country, but I was interested in this one that is situated so near to us. All of us who were at the Grange Hall were impressed with the group who came to tell us about their doings around the area. They learn to survive in the woods and as one of the boys said, their insect repellent was like a credit card, don't leave home without it, or you suffer the consequences. They all carry knapsacks on their backs or perhaps I should say, back packs and they weigh from 45 to 75 pounds. One of the boys showed us what they carry in them and it is amazing all the things they have to have and yet not be over loaded with items not necessary. Those of us present were really impressed by the way the young men and women conducted themselves and how grateful they were to have a chance to tell us of their adventures. The slide show was good too and gave one quite an idea of what they do; canoe trips, climbing cliffs and being shown a 15 foot wall and told to scale it. Nothing to help them to do so and they were to figure a way for the whole group to get over it without any help. What would you do in a case like that, I wonder? They set up a tent

North East Lovell

Pauline Smith, Corres.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Allen, daughter and granddaughter, from Ayer, Mass., visited Hazel Allen. Keith Peacock and family are at their camp at Cushman Pond on a vacation.

Gerry Nelson is here at his camp, Cushman Pond.

The Brad Crosbys are here at their cottage from Oosterville, Mass.

Had a nice door yard call from Dian Johnstone, North Lovell.

Mary Fox called at the Smiths to help me on papers, good work.

Scottie Allen spent a night and day this week with Iva Fox, his grandmother.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Cristwell called at Leroy and Pauline Smith's Thursday evening.

Bob Cope, Roy Smith and Bob's friend, were fishing at Wild River this week.

Pauline Smith will be away this week, vacationing at Back Lake, Pittsburg, N. H., so won't be writing for the paper.

Callers at Leroy Smith's were Mrs. Edna Estes, Brunswick, cousin Emmy Cross, Florida, Kenneth and Dot Smith, Fryeburg, Brad and Mary Crosby, Massachusetts.

In a hall, such as they sleep in and told about taking it apart and carrying a part of it to distribute the weight among them all. We were shown the kitchen, as they called it and it was like a light tarp that they hang between trees to get under while cooking meals. The boys called it skip, but Saturday night, the group were served baked beans and brown bread. Some had never had brown bread before and one of the counselors said there wasn't enough either. There were some of the young folks from New York, Connecticut, Georgia, Kentucky, New Hampshire, and one or two from Maine. I thought that the groups were all young folks, but learned that some of the people who join are as old as 70, which I found very interesting as what is expected of them is rather rugged. They have three days of making it on their own and alone. They have maps to study to get them where they have to go and so many other things it is hard to mention, but one thing I can assure you of they were all grateful for the food we had provided for them after the program was over. They expressed their thanks and many of them asked if they could help in any way. You don't get that from too many young people today. They brought along some of their food to share with us also and it was good. It is something easy for them to carry and nutritious too. Peanuts and raisins were the main things in it and they carry it in bags so it is an easy meal or quick energy

East Stoneham

Gladys Kilgore, Corres.

Mrs. Edna Henley of North Watford made me a nice call Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanwood Nelson went to Denmark Monday on business.

Shirley Grant has been visiting her brother and wife for the past week. She enjoyed helping them with their haying.

The Nelson field across from me has been alive with activity for the past week.

Another pet dog, a beautiful Golden Retriever, was run over and killed one morning last week by a pickup truck, going much too fast. It belonged to the Peter Fox family and they are all going to miss him.

Herbert Adams of Portland was master of ceremonies and guest speaker at the opening of services held at the K. of P. Hall Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Millett and little son of Conway, N. H., visited his mother, Mrs. Bob Tripp Saturday.

Alton Curtis of Rockland called on friends here Saturday. His brother, Ivan, and family, are here for a few days at their camp on Lake Keewaydin.

Mrs. Thelma Dadmun went to Fryeburg one day last week.

when needed. Dot Canwell and Dick Bell played music after the program and they had a chance to kick up their heels and did for a short spell, then all joined in singing songs and sing they did. It was good to see everyone join in together and sing songs, both old and some not quite so old, but the young folks enjoyed it all and those of us there enjoyed seeing all join together and have such a good time. Also, some of them came around and shook hands and told us what a good time they had had and how good the food tasted after being in the woods for seven days.

It was a pleasure for me to see and hear the young men and women have such a good time and know that I had had a part in sharing a wonderful evening with them. They asked about our Grange and one of the boys expressed the thought that it seemed a good way for people to get together and make new friends as well as do good for the community. He didn't understand why more people didn't join us in having good times and helping one another. I agree with him and wish others felt the same way.

Children's Center

The children have been involved in exciting and productive activities the past couple of weeks at the Center. They have picked strawberries at Clough's Farm then made pies, shortcakes, and ate them fresh on cereals and for desserts. A real taste treat.

Children have also been enjoying weekly swim trips at the Bethel Inn Beach. Children and staff very much appreciate the Inn's hospitality. They had an informative trip to the Rufford Fire Station with excellent demonstrations from the fire crew there. Also they went on an exploring trip to Moose Cave in Grafton Notch.

Summer activities focus on the richness of the season and environment now. Children are learning about natural weather phenomena, wild flowers, animals of our environment. Many good books are read and shared such as "One Morning in Maine." The children also had a great time with "The Teddy Bear's Picnic" book and record.

Recent stars of the week have been 5 year old Amy Hale of West Bethel and 5 year old Kelly Lawrie of Gilead. We have really enjoyed both girls' special posters and all of the Center children have contributed to making them masterpieces.

Thank-yous to Tammy Hanson and Darnita Yates for their help on field trips.

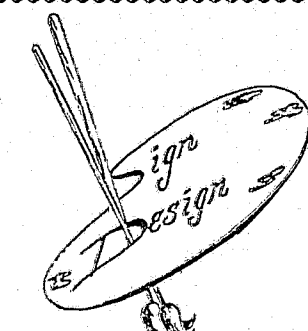

Staff and parents are planning a public supper and open house, Aug. 25. We hope to make it a community event. Watch for announcements.

There are still spaces available for 2 1/2 to 6 year old children in the Day Care program. The Center offers a unique and quality developmental program for young children. Staff are always willing to talk with people who are interested in the program. The Center is

(Tri-Town Ambulance & Emergency Rescue Service)

Tri Town Rescue had a successful yard sale Saturday and Sunday. Thanks to everyone who supported it by working, baking, or buying useful items.

Tri-Town wishes to express its sympathy to the family of Rose Wilson, an auxiliary member who passed away this past week. Sympathy is extended especially to daughter, Priscilla Staley, and daughter-in-law, Sally Wilson.

Tri-Town had a joint training exercise with members of the Greenwood Fire Dept. on auto extrication. The Fire Dept. practiced its porta-pack extrication equipment. Tri-Town practiced its patient care in a simulated auto accident.

Tri-Town training meeting is scheduled for July 25, 7 p.m., at Ledgeview Memorial Home. Tri-Town Search and Rescue training is scheduled for July 23, 6 p.m., at Jane Chandler's home in South Woodstock. The next auxiliary meeting is scheduled for July 30 at 7 p.m. at Chris Heffey's house in Bryant Pond.

Safety Tip of the Week — Swimming lessons are presently going on in Bethel and will start July 30 in Bryant Pond. Consider taking your child for their own safety. Even if lessons show the child how to relax, maybe they won't panic if overturned in a boat. People can fall in the water easily, and swimming lessons are a very good preventative measure.

Provisions were made for the vendor at his expense to provide drops in three public buildings—Telstar, Cole Block and the Fire Station—for the purpose of transmitting local programming such as games, educational events, public meetings, etc. Also, should the vendor decide later to offer "X" rated programming, Bethel Cablevision will at company expense, offer others who wish it an electric scrambler device that will screen out all video and audio of that channel. The cable franchise was negotiated with the belief that cable TV will soon become the main vehicle for communicating public information among our citizens which is a sophisticated and enlightened approach, according to Denis Nolin.

The Meadow Brook Bridge over the Pleasant River on the Flat Road in West Bethel is scheduled for restoration, widening and new road aprons by the MDOT crew presently working on Lover's Lane. The Meadow Brook bridge was listed three years ago by MDOT engineers as one of the three most deteriorated bridges in the state. Last year a joint agreement was concluded among the Town of Bethel, MDOT and the U. S. Forest Service to replace the existing bridge with a new one of arch-culvert design at a total project cost of about $55,000. Bethel's share of the project cost is 20% as funds were approved by voters at the March 1983 Town Meeting. The MDOT crew is reportedly making all plans to complete the project before school opens in September. Airport development is warming up again as the new federal budget commences on Oct. 1, 1984. According to Federal Aviation sources, Bethel's airport development

VISITORS FROM AUSTRALIA—Mr. and Mrs. Jack Thorp of Perth, West Australia, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Alanson Cummings of West Bethel this week. Mr. Thorp and Mr. Cummings became good friends during the second World War when the latter was stationed with the Navy in Australia. On Tuesday of this week the group motored to Skowhegan and visited the Margaret Chase Smith Library. Left to right: Alanson Cummings, Mr. and Mrs. Thorp, Cathryn Lovejoy, and Mrs. Cummings.

 Representative Jeff Mills and members of the Headwaters Alliance of Sunday River, a local group formed in opposition to an earlier proposed nuclear dump in the Sunday River area. All those present from the Bethel area were pleased that the commission is focusing further attention on this new direction. Some felt that the decisiveness with which the commission is moving may be attributed to pressure being applied on them by the fact that signatures are presently being gathered on a nuclear waste referendum. The proposed referendum would give the state's voters the right to approve or reject any facility which is proposed as a result of the commission's decision-making process.

Concerns were also voiced by Bethel residents that federal regulations still require any storage or disposal facility for nuclear waste to meet the requirements for a trench-burial facility such as the area around Sunday River was investigated for. The area around Wiscasset definitely does not contain any geological formations which might meet such requirements, which means that unless the federal regulations are changed by the Nuclear Regulatory Commission, attention may be focused on the Sunday River area again as a potential nuclear dump. Residents were hopeful that under continued pressure, Maine's commission would challenge those regulations and make alternative proposals. They voiced hope about the possible results of such challenges, as regulations have already shifted markedly in the past year or so.

To help with the referendum petition drive, contact Robin Fraser at 824-3361.

Walking With Jesus Christ

July 18, 1984

"What is this Jesus?"
 "His eyes are on the ways of men, he sees their every step. There is no dark place, no deep shadow, where evil doers can hide. Suppose a man says to God, I am guilty but will offend no more. Teach me what I cannot see; if I have done wrong, I will not do so again. Should God then reward you on your own terms, when you refuse to repent?"

Hear my words, you wise men; listen to me, you men of learning. For the ear tests words as the tongue tastes food.

Far be it from God to do evil, from God to do wrong. He repays a man for what he has done; he brings upon him what he deserves. It is unthinkable that God would do wrong, that the Almighty would pervert justice. Who appointed him over the earth? Who put him in charge of the world? If it were his intention and he withdraw his Spirit and breath, all mankind would perish together and man would return to dust."

The foregoing from the thirty-fourth chapter of the Book of Job—using the New International Version of the Holy Bible.

Elihu the speaker has a more accurate understanding of Job's problem than his three companions because he has a higher conception of God.

Notice and pay particular attention to the word—repent—verse 33. (The wording in the time honored King James Version appears to be different; it has the same meaning.)

As we read the remaining chapters we learn more of the greatness of God as he asserts his omnipotence over Heaven and all of his creation.

We see in Job 42:6—Job says to God — "Therefore I despise myself and repent in dust and ashes." It is then that Job is restored to his place in the community—receiving from God twice as much as he had before—verse 10—read on.

This is the same Jesus—God in

Molly Ockett

Molly Ockett was a Pequawket Indian who lived among the early settlers of Western Maine. She was a friend to the early residents, and, as one of the few Indians who remained in the area, became the subject of legend to succeeding generations.

Although she was later associated with the Androscoggin River valley, Molly Ockett's early life was spent on the Saco River, around the Pequawket village at Fryeburg. She was born between 1730 and 1740, the daughter and granddaughter of chiefs, and was present at the Indian village of Saint Francis in Quebec at the time of Rogers' Raid in 1759. Molly Ockett lived in Fryeburg in the 1760's and in the Bethel area after 1770, among the first settlers of those towns, and she continued to live in an Indian fashion, traveling through the Androscoggin Valley, with frequent trips to northern New Hampshire, Vermont and Quebec, for the rest of her life.

In his account of a stay among the Indians in Sudbury Canada (Bethel) in 1772, Henry Thufis mentions seeking medical treatment from Molly Ockett, "the great Indian doctress" and other instances of her cures are recorded in local histories. Her most famous patient was the infant Hannibal Hamlin of Paris Hill. Arriving at the Hamlin home on a stormy night in 1809, after being refused shelter at Snow Falls, and, according to legend, cursing the place, Molly Ockett found young Hannibal near death. Her prescription of warm cow's milk saved his life and he went on to become Abraham Lincoln's vice president.

Second only to her medical reputation, was Molly Ockett's fame as a story-teller. She was a welcome guest at many homes, and some of her tales were passed down through the generations. Most famous are the "treasure stories"—the burying of Indian gold in West Paris beneath a trap hung in a tree, and similar tales involving White Cap in Andover, and Hemlock Island in East Bethel. These stories set off many a treasure hunt, but to no reward.

Molly Ockett was accomplished in traditional Indian crafts, and examples of her birch-bark boxes, and a woven purse have been preserved. She was also adept at basketry, leather-work, and pottery.

Andover, Maine, was Molly Ockett's final home, when she became too ill to travel, and she was cared for in her final days by the Thomas Bragg family. She died on August 2, 1816, and was buried in the Andover cemetery. Fifty years later the women of the Andover church raised money for a marker, which was installed on Molly Ockett's grave on July 4, 1867, with the occasion marked by a large community celebration.

In the 1950's, the Health Council in Bethel began the tradition of Molly Ockett Day as a community event, carried on recently by the Bethel Lions Club. Each year a young girl is chosen to portray

PORTRAITS OF DONALD DRAKE AT MATOLCSY ART CENTER IN NORWAY, JULY 24-AUG. 4

The portraits of Donald Drake can be seen at the Matolcsy Art Center in Norway from July 24 through Aug. 4. Gallery hours are Tuesday - Saturday, 10:30-3:30. From an early age Donald liked to draw people. Just for fun at first, but as a senior in high school he decided to study art. Boston University was his choice for further schooling and during his four years there he studied under Morton Sacks, David Aronson and Arthur Pollonsky who taught him form and design and the disciplines of color. He graduated with a bachelor of Fine Arts.

In the spring of 1982, competing against artists from 35 states and four foreign countries, Don won the number two Merit Award at the National Portrait Seminar in New York City.

"Princess Molly Ockett" and to preside over the day's events. Molly Ockett's generosity, accomplishments and self-reliance are qualities as worthy of community honor in our time as they were in the days of the early settlers, and they provide a fine inspiration for Molly Ockett Day.

When the Forest Service intends to construct the road through a contract, the award of the timber sale contract will not be made unless either a satisfactory road construction bid is received or if Forest Service fails to receive such a bid within 120 days of opening timber sale bids, bidder agrees to perform road construction.

Full information concerning the timber, the conditions of sale, and the submission of bids should be obtained from the District Ranger, U. S. Forest Service, Bethel, Maine, or the Forest Supervisor, Laconia, New Hampshire.

The Selectmen met with Superintendent of Schools Dewaine Craig, Tuesday, July 10, to examine the Raymond Foster School and discuss the possibility of District 44 turning the school back to the Town. District Directors favor turning the building and one fourth of the five acre lot back to the Town, retaining the remaining three fourths of the land. The Directors feel that since there was an indebtedness on the building, which the District took over, when S.A.D. 44 was formed, that they should retain part of the land. Construction on the school was started in 1964 and completed in 1965, the year S.A.D. 44 was formed. The Town took out a $20,000 loan when construction started. One $2,000 payment was made by the Town, with the District taking over the remaining $18,000. Since the District assumed the indebtedness on the building, it may be necessary to call a District meeting to vote to turn over the building. If the building had been free of debt when the District was formed it would take only a vote by the Board of Directors. Supt. Craig expected to know if this can still be done before Monday night's (July 16) meeting of the Board of Directors. The Selectmen expect to meet with some local carpenters early next week, to examine the building and obtain estimate of costs of needed repairs. If the Board of Directors, or the District votes to turn the building back to the Town, a Special Town Meeting would then be called to see if the Town will vote to take over the building. NOVA is presently leasing the building from S.A.D. 44 and the lease runs until June 30, 1985. If the Town votes to take over the building it is expected that NOVA would continue to lease part of the building, with the remainder to be used as a Municipal Building. The Selectmen expect to try to negotiate with the District for the entire five acre lot, not the one-fourth the District proposes to turn over.

After meeting with Supt. Craig, the Selectmen met and made a Treasurer's warrant to pay current bills. There was some discussion of needed work on Town roads. The D.E.P. has approved the Septic Waste Disposal Site and Fergus Lea of Androscoggin Valley Council of Governments will meet with the Site Operator, Franklin Harrington, to reexamine the site, determine where the test wells shall be located, see that the proper fences and gates are erected, etc. The Selectmen plan to then meet with Bethel and Hanover Selectmen at the site, to go over regulations for dumping at the site and licensing pumbers. The site will be operated by Harrington, with Newry and Hanover paying him an annual fee and persons having tanks pumped paying a fee per load, this fee to be retained by Harrington. Since the site is located in the Town of Bethel, Bethel is to use the site on an emergency basis. Bethel residents having tanks pumped would pay the dumping fee but the Town would not pay the fee to Harrington.

— Mrs. Celista Morgan, Corres. —

This morning I was up early for there was a promise of a good day. I watched the sun gild the pond. It was very quiet out there save for a pair of ducks pushing along our shore. A blue heron slanted down into the weeds on the far shore; probably frogging. It was an entirely different world from the rain and mist and easterly blowing of so many days recently.

After working inside for the morning and getting the mid-day meal out of the way, I mowed all of my lawns which take some over an hour to do. I did some clipping so that the flowers could be seen, cut a few bushes, then took a short stroll up the spring road. How it had changed, since last I was there. Green growth everywhere, I looked for some twin-flowers but found none however I did find the partridge vine exhaling its delicious fragrance from the delicate sister blossoms which are its glory. Among its waxy flowers I found as many of the bright red berries of last year, as had been left unmolested by the hungry winter birds. No matter where I come across these two flowers I feel that I must lie down and smell them. They are so sweet and two of my favorites. The twin-flowers are such fragile things, with tender stems seeming too delicate to support their tiny flowers. Yet they grow in our northern forest, whether seen or not. Because Nature is so, the delicate things thrive on the soil, air, and water, as well as the tremendous white pine that reaches far into the sky. There was scarcely a square inch of earth without a life-covering of some kind. Forms, colors, sizes, all different but of one unity.

A south wind sprang up. The waves on the pond told me that.

Summer, with its warmth and richness; knee-high grass with its seed clusters, green and healthy trees, a grand parade of flowers, young birds with gaping bills and quivering wings, begging to be fed, and crops rising from the warm soil.

I sat on a rock at the top of Fox Hill, as I didn't have time to go far at this part of the day.

I heard a clucking and a fluttering beyond a nearby spruce. A lone partridge came walking and looking. I kept quiet hoping her babies would appear. But she spied me and strolled back under the spruce and I'm sure beyond. I walked toward home and arrived to see the swallows putting on a few aerial acrobatics which made pleasant entertainment. Some were sitting on the cross wires, maybe the audience, while others were whirling and skimming over the water, at times plunging their breasts into it, causing a ripple, as they broke the mirror. It seemed a bit early for a field day like this but they were having a ball. I found myself caught up in all the joy, as I left them to go inside until evening.

A big round moon, wonderfully bright, poked above the hills and looked down on us and into the valley. Three thrushes moved in close and put on their concert. We relaxed from our small labors of the day to bask in the beauty of this moon-flooded valley and watch the stars appear above the velvety blackness of the forest.

This was a good day clear through any way you looked at it.

At the Hayes Homestead visitors on Saturday and Sunday were Scot Hayes, West Paris; Ardell Hayes, Auburn; Verna Libby, Lenora Waterhouse, Helen Cole, Falmouth.

Fay Holt was in Denmark, picking strawberries with her friends, Eldith Lang and Myrtle Heikkinen of West Paris the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Steven Cogswell, Freeport, spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Curtis.

Supper guests of Fred and Rena Curtis on Saturday were Eva Felton, Kathy Curtis, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Curtis and family. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Heikkinen, Livermore, were callers there.

John Betts has been a patient at Stephens Memorial Hospital for several days.

Work is progressing on the Norway-Greenwood Road.

M.S.A.D. 44 BOARD MEETS

his years at Telstar, his extra-curricular duties have included being coach of boys' varsity basketball and girls' varsity softball and during the past school year served as Athletic Director for Telstar Middle/High School. Mr. Durgin has accepted a position at Fryeburg Academy.

The question of returning the Raymond C. Foster School to the Town of Newry will be addressed by the full Board of Directors at its Aug. 13 meeting. The Board's Buildings and Grounds Committee is to have a recommendation at that time. Current State Statute enables the Board of Directors to return the property to the Town of Newry without the vote of a District Meeting. A simple majority vote of the Board of Directors would release the facility to the Town of Newry. Following that Newry citizens voting in Town Meeting, would have to decide whether or not it was their desire to accept it.

Board member Rick McVey of Newry was not present Monday evening.

The next meeting of the S.A.D. 44 Board is scheduled to be held at the Telstar Library at 7:30 on Monday evening, Aug. 13.

ATTENDING CONVENTION

State Representative Jeff Mills is attending the Democratic National Convention being held July 16 to 20 in San Francisco. Rep. Mills, a resident of Bethel, is the first Democrat from the Western Maine area in many years to attend the national convention. He was elected as one of six delegates from Maine's Second Congressional District at the state convention held in May.

Rep. Mills looks forward to representing the interests of Western Maine people on such platform issues as the environment, education, social security and national defense, and to participating in the selection of presidential and vice-presidential nominees.

The Maine delegation is headed by Governor Joseph Brennan, and includes Senator George Mitchell, several other legislators, and party activists.

CONTEL WORKING ON MAJOR CONSTRUCTION PROJECT IN WEST BETHEL EXCHANGE

Continental Telephone Company of Maine is currently working on a major construction project in the West Bethel exchange, according to Outside Plant Engineer, Lynn Maloney. The construction job will cost Continental Telephone $25,588. The project will involve placing 5,189 feet of buried cable and 7,887 feet of buried fiber optic cable on U. S. Route 2. The new buried service will increase voice quality and provide for less future maintenance than the existing aerial facilities.

Fiber optic cable is considered the "state-of-the-art" in the telephone industry today, providing voice transmission by light waves over strands (fibers) of glass, the diameter of a human hair. Because of the large number of transmissions that can be sent over one fiber, the size and numbers of cables is cut dramatically and requirements for future growth can be more easily met, along with the capabilities for more advanced data transmissions as technology advances. The fiber optic will provide a long distance link to the host switching office in Bethel.

Notes from NTL

NTL Institute's Bethel programs are now into their fourth week of the summer sessions. Among the 135 participants and staff this week the Institute is as usual welcoming persons from all over the United States and from many foreign countries, including, Holland, Brazil, New Zealand, Malaysia, Canada and South Africa. There also are several American participants of Australian, Hispanic and Chinese background.

The Sunrise Seminars of the past few days have included a videotape presentation on Blacks and Whites working together in corporations, and a talk on employee involvement and participative management in a large organization. The topic for Friday is "Gestalt and Problem Solving" by Daryl Funches; Saturday will be an experiential presentation by the staff and participants of the Centering Laboratory; and Sunday's Sunrise Seminar is an open movement session, led by staff member Barbara Sloan.

All of these 45-minute sessions, which start at 7:30 a. m., are open to the public and are free of charge. They are held in the Maine Room (in the small building behind the NTL Conference Center on Board Street), except for Saturday's Centering Experience, which is to be held in the Conference House itself. For both Saturday and Sunday, those who attend are encouraged to participate

Upton

— Mrs. Arline Bernier, Corres. —

Laurie Bergeron and Arline Bernier went to Oxford Monday to attend the graveside ceremony for a cousin, Oscar Twitchell. Later, along with Flossie Bernier and children we went to East Summer to visit the Sidney Abbotts and the Stuart Abbotts.

Musterole is a product which used to be as common as aspirin, but is difficult to find any more. Last time I asked in a drug store. I got a blank look as the clerk had never heard of it. Some things don't go on forever. My empty jar must be a relic.

Strawberry picking is running to a close. The supply of customers was bigger than the supply of berries, but my new bed is doing well so perhaps next year we will be evened up.

Bill and Mary Belanger of Randolph, Mass., spent the week end at their home on the Lake.

The Frank Tuckers of Dover, Mass., are enjoying Upton air.

We will miss Alvin Turbide and his music in church services. He played the guitar and sang gospel songs with a distinctive western-country style with heartfelt sincerity.

Ellen Heywood has been entertaining guests from Florida this past week.

and to wear loose, comfortable clothing. Coffee is available at the door at all Sunrise Seminars.

The five programs this week include the basic Human Interaction program and others on managing conflict, Centering, managing complex system changes, and integrating training and consultation. For descriptive sheets on all NTL programs, please stop in at the Bethel office in Bingham Gym, or call 824-2151.
